

Courtney Ramsey Introduction

- Are you frustrated with _____?
- Does it feel like there's a constant wave of _____?
- Are you for some practical ways you can _____?
(personalize with the audience's most common frustrations)

If so, our next speaker is here for you...

With over 20 years of experience training associates and leaders in billion-dollar businesses, she's passionate about helping others learn and grow. She's helped companies like Toyota, JCPenney, and The American Red Cross take employees from high-potential to high-impact.

When she's not developing others, she's developing herself. A self-proclaimed self-help junkie, she's currently reading or listening to about five books—and she hopes to actually finish one this year!

As a wife and mom, her idea of a good Friday night is sitting on the couch with a glass of wine, watching Dateline, and being asleep by 10. Please help me welcome speaker, educator, and boxed wine guru, Courtney Ramsey.
